

Historic Lithia Spring GA

Lithia Springs GA is an ancient healing spring that has been visited by health seekers since prehistoric times. Sourced from a sacred native American *Indian medicine spring, Lithia Spring Water's delicious taste, rare mineral composition, purity, and health enhancing properties are legendary. There are few springs in the United States, or for that matter, the entire world that has such an amazing history.

The source of the spring is part of the Stone Mountain, GA geological pluton formation that was formed at the time of the Blue Ridge Mountain around 300-350 million years ago. The spring and its pristine health enhancing water are protected by a historic 1887 spring house. This vintage building was designed with a technology of the period to protect the pristine primordial mineral Water from the outside world's contaminants and ground water. Inside the vintage spring house, there is an ancient wonder to behold.

Since Lithia Spring Water was first bottled in 1888 Lithia Spring Water's Health enhancing mineral composition and pristine purity have been enjoyed by health seekers and water connoisseurs alike.

*Indian Medicine Spring is a historic term used to define Native American sacred health-giving springs

Explore - Our Website and be Amazed.